Mass Meeting on the Pool Room Question

Last Saturday morning dodgers were distributed liberally around Glendale calling for a mass meeting of "everybody who has the good of Glendale at heart, and is opposed to the opening of a pool room in our city."

As a result, the Presbyterian church was well filled Saturday evening with an audience composed principally of church members and a minority of others.

The meeting was called to order by J. C. Lennox. The Rev. George R. Graef was chosen chairman and M. Z. Remsburgh, secretary. The Rev. S. L. Ward stated the object of the meeting in a rather warm address in which he took occasion to criticise the action of the trustees in somewhat severe terms.

Mr. Campbell, the only member of the board, who had as yet appeared upon the scene, was called upon to explain his action as a trustee of the municipality in voting for a pool room license in the face of popular objection. Mr. Campbell replied very briefly that he had voted in favor of the license upon mature consideration of the subject, being acquainted with conditions not generally known, which he believed enabled him to form an opinion based upon a wider knowledge than that possessed by the average citizen. He felt somewhat indignant at being called before a meeting of this kind and wanted to know if he was on trial. In reply to which query, Mr. Beers arose and in emphatic language assured him that he was!

About this time Mr. Parcher, chairman of the beard, entered, very soon followed by the two other members of the unpopular quartette, Messrs. Anderson and Jennings.

Mr. Parcher was called upon for his defense. He also expressed some resentment at being called to appear before the meeting in a manner which seemed to him somewhat peremptory, but had concluded to come and hear what others had to say rather than to say much himself. He was of the opinion that the members of the board of trustees had been selected because of their general fitness for the work and he presumed that all agreed that their honesty was unquestioned. The matter of this pool room license had been under consideration for some time. Mr. Watson, consistently with his principles, had voted no, and the other members just as consistently and influenced by equally good motives, had voted in favor of the license. He should stand by his vote and the other members could speak for themselves. He said in conclusion that he does not believe it a wise policy for this board of trustees, or any legislative body, to consider the wishes of the public first and their own convictions of right afterwards.

Messrs. Anderson and Jennings, in reply to calls for a statement of their position, responded briefly, saying that they had acted as they considered best for the general good and had no further statement to make.

Rev. S. L. Ward then took the floor and offered the resolutions which were subsequently adopted and appear below. He spoke in their support, declaring that the "explanations" of the trustees explained nothing and were unsatisfactory.

J. C. Sherer then took the floor in defense of the action of the trustees. He stated that the meeting appeared to him to be a one-sided one, and quoted the language of the call to show that those who favored the granting of the license had not been invited. (The committee explained that this was unintentional.) He declared that the trustees had acted wisely and that there were reasons unknown to the general public which justified their course. Being called upon to name them, Mr. Sherer stated that there had been a "social club" organized in Glendale; that this particular club might be all right and be quite properly conducted, but it was a fact that these organizations in other towns are generally a nuisance and as they have privileges under the existing law which permit them to do about as they please, and cannot be controlled by the authorities, it seemed to him, as to the trustees, that a properly conducted pool room in a conspicuous place with everything open and above board, would go far to prevent the social club evil.

Mr. Schneider interrupted to inform the meeting that Mr. Hadrich who obtained the pool room license, was the prime mover of the social club that is now here.

Mr. Sherer replied that he was not making a defense of Mr. Hadrich. He stated further the fact that a number of young men in Glendale are in the habit of going to Los Angeles for amusement in the evening and that it is not unusual for some of them to return on the last car more or less intoxicated. The knowledge of these facts on the part of the trustees, he claimed, justified them in their act.

Rev. C. R. Norton spoke. Mr. Norton believed pool playing to be wrong under all circumstances. He told of his experience in Iowa where he was warned not to speak against the element of the population who play pool, as he had announced his intention of doing. Notwithstanding the warning, he spoke just the same.

Mr. Wenger spoke briefly in defense of the game, but condemned the trustees for granting a license now, when they had previously refused one to other applicants just as worthy.

Mr. Schneider, one of these applicants, spoke in a similar vein.

Messrs. Leavitt, Lennox, Wilde, Johnson, Blackburn and others spoke briefly in support of the following resolutions, which were adopted by a practically unanimous vote:

A resolution introduced in public meeting of citizens and taxpayers of the City of Glendale, Cal., August 17, 1907:

WHEREAS, The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale did, upon Wednesday, August 14, 1907, pass a resolution granting a permit to certain parties or party to conduct and maintain a public pool hall in the City of Glendale, Trustees Anderson, Parcher, Jennings and Campbell voting yes and Trustee Watson voting no; and

WHEREAS, We believe that such action was against the wishes and sentiment of a majority of the citizens of said city, and was taken without any notice having been given of such intended action, nor any reasonable time nor opportunity having been given for protest, discussion, or due consideration by the citizens whom that august body serves; and

WHEREAS, Such action was taken in the face of the fact that several months past a proposition of like character was considered and strong and overwhelming opposition to the granting of such permit was so manifest that the Trustees voted the proposition down, and there being no reason to believe that the sentiment had changed in this respect; and

WHEREAS, This meeting, as representing the moral and law-abiding element of this municipality, considers the existence in our city of a public pool hall to be demoralizing to the community in general, inimical to the preservation of law and order, a stain upon the fair name of our city, and a detriment to the best interests of our society, our business affairs and to our homes; therefore be it

Resolved, That we condemn the action of the Board of Trustees in granting said pool room permit; that we do not consider the manner and circumstances cited as representing our interests fairly, and that such means is not in conformity with good citizenship; and further be it

Resolved, That we censure the action of those members of the Board of Trustees voting yes to the above-mentioned resolution and commend the action of that member voting no; and be it also

Resolved, That the GLENDALE NEWS be tendered a copy of this set of resolutions along with a report of this meeting for publication.

A committee was appointed to circulate a petition requesting the trustees to rescind their action, consisting of G. R. Graef, M. Z. Remsburgh, G. H. Barager, F. H. Wilde, Simeon Grant.

TRUSTEES MEETING.

Present all members except Watson. On motion Mr. Peterson was allowed four dollars per day for experting books.

The following bills were referred to the finance committee: A. Eves, for locating hydrants, $6.00; G. B. Woodberry for stamps, $9.00; F. R. Sinclair, street superintendent salary, $80.00; Long & Baker, attorneys, $50.00; Verdugo Springs Water Co., water for streets, $5.50. Warrant No. 262, in favor of T. W. Doyle, for assessing, was ordered to be drawn.

Demands amounting to $19.35, previously referred to the finance committee, were reported favorably and allowed. Application of Geo. B. Mock for extension of time on contract for grading and oiling of Glendale avenue, was acted upon favorably.

Application of Geo. B. Mock for permit to do street work by private contract on B street, was granted on payment of fees.

Bond of W. L. Nelson as city marshal, was approved.

Resignation of Chas. E. Stanley as recorder of the city of Glendale was received and accepted.

A resolution adopted at a public meeting of citizens held Aug. 17th last, in reference to action of board in granting a pool room license, was presented by Rev. G. R. Graff and read by the clerk. On motion it was laid on the table.

A petition was presented by a committee appointed at the public meeting mentioned above, requesting that the trustees rescind their action in reference to the granting of a pool room license to L. F. Hadrich. Chairman Parcher stated that there would be no debate on the subject, but that the committee would be heard in regard to it. Mr. Graff, as chairman of the committee, then spoke briefly upon the petition. On motion the resolution was referred to the judiciary committee.

An ordinance establishing the grade of a portion of Second street from the easterly line of A street to the westerly line of Verdugo road, passed first and second reading and laid over until next meeting. During the evening Mr. Coker presented the board a number of written questions in regard to the position of the trustees under certain conditions in reference to a street along the Child's tract line. The chairman took the questions up seriatum and his replies encouraged Mr. Coker in the belief that something can be done to bring about this much desired improvement, and he stated his intention to go to work along that line.

GLENDALE, CAL., AUGUST 24, 1907

We do not know what a "molly-coddle" is, and have not time to write to Washington about it, but we greatly fear that there is a nest of them in this vicinity.

The Glendale correspondent of the Express is getting reckless. In Monday's paper he reports Mr. Frank Campbell as saying that it is none of the people's business what the trustees do. Of course Mr. Campbell said nothing of the kind.

Just about the time that we begin to feel at peace with all the world, and are moving along in the "pleasant paths of dalliance," unkindly Fate, the grim old ringmaster, grabs us by the shoulder and pitches us into a sixteen-foot ring, where we find ourselves face to face with an old-time friend who has been chucked in from the other side of the fence!

The long whip cracks as we gaze in wonderment at each other; its sinuous lash catches us on our unprotected shanks and we go at it hammer and tongs, catch-as-catch-can, up the sides and down the middle, over and under, hide and hair, tooth and toe nail, while the world looks on from the reserved seats in the gallery and when it becomes tired of our play, turns the thumb downward, cries "habet," the attendants sweep up the remains and the ringmaster calls out "Next!"

Patented Contemporaries

We would not for the world quarrel with our brethren of the press for using patent insides or outsides, but when we tear the wrappers from a bunch of exchanges and find the same old chestnuts staring us in the face from the pages of a dozen of them, we do get a little bit weary. Within the last week a number of them have told us in identicae phraseology, that Quantrell the guerilla (who ought to have been dead forty years ago) is still alive; that Secretary Wilson says lumber is being wasted; that the white fly pest is being exterminated, and a whole bunch of other things more or less important if true. All of which makes us turn with relief to the little four-page eight by twelve product of a superannuated hand press that comes to us weekly from Calamity Corners. Not much of it, but all there.

The Pool Room

The "growing pains" which mark the growth of any small community towards something larger and better, continue to affect the body politic, and Glendale is today in that condition which gives unmistakable evidence of expansion, in thought, at least.

If everybody in the community held the same opinion as did his neighbor, even if it was the opinion now held by the "best citizens," we should be in a hopeless case; we might be one of the "sights" of Southern California, but we should stand fifty years hence, or as long as that condition of mind existed, just where we now are! There is no growth without effort; inaction is death, and the self complacency that impels the individual to associate only with those of his kind, and to listen to no arguments in opposition to a cherished theory, marks the mind that is atrophied and at the limit of its growth; which is prefatory to the assertion that from the present agitation good will ultimately come, altho the present symptoms are extremely unpleasant.

* * *

The Board of Trustees have granted a license to conduct a pool room. They had previously refused two or three applications for the same privilege. When the first application was made, it was laid over by the board and the community had a week in which to ferment. The fermentation brought to the surface a numerously signed petition against granting the application, and in accordance with their own impulses and the wish of the petitioners, the trustees refused to issue a license. Two others were tabled without reference to the public. But in the meantime conditions had changed. A social club was organized, ostensibly to "study history." The club had as yet done nothing to bring down upon it the opprobrium of the community, but there was in it an element which is inclined to study history "through a glass," and it suggested possibilities which have made in other towns a public nuisance of these private social organizations, as they are permitted by law to entertain their "members" in any way that pleases their fancy; and "membership" is easy.

Attenion was called at this time also to the fact that a number of young men were in the habit of going to Los Angeles to spend their evenings and to the fact that upon their return on the midnight car it frequently happened that some of them were, in some degree, at least, intoxicated.

Another thing was noticed also: that there is a coterie among the "smart set" of the youngsters of the town and a few older ones among them, who are given to the playing of "craps" in out-of-the-way corners of the town at late hours of the night. To such an extent had this sort of gambling gone, that the city marshal made a raid on their resort one night a little while ago and arrested a bunch of twenty-one, among them sons of some of our "best citizens." The fact of the arrest was not made public for apparent good reasons, and the prisoners were turned loose under a promise to be good.

* * *

When the application of L. F. Hadrich was received, the trustees did not advertise the fact as heretofore, but counseled together seriously as to what was the best thing for them to do to protect the best interests of the community. The conditions were ideal for a decently conducted place of amusement. The license was granted under conditions insuring the conduct of the place in a proper manner; no liquor or gambling on the premises, boys excluded, and everything to be open to the public, the license revokable when these conditions were not observed. All the trustees acknowledged that there is a class of young men, and some older ones, who demand amusement, particularly during the evenings, and if they do not find it at home they will seek it elsewhere. All of the trustees also, agreed that a game of pool under proper conditions is harmless. Now it followed as clearly as day treads upon the heels of night, that the experiment of licensing a pool room with proper restrictions was worth trying. Mr. Hadrich had every incentive to keep his part of the contract, his self interest impelling him to do so.

Now having made up their minds that the thing was right, why should they refer it to the people for petition and counter petition? Had they been weak and wobbly politicians fearful of taking responsibility, that is precisely what they would have done; but being honest and sensible men and fully conscious of their duty—better informed in regard to the matter than their constituents, they went right ahead and did the right thing, knowing that it would be unpopular.

This is a complete statement of the situation up to the call of the meeting of Saturday night. We feel that the calling of this meeting was a mistake; that the denunciation of the trustees is in bad taste and unfair. No one has been foolish enough to accuse them of being influenced by any improper motive, and we believe that no one can logically accuse them of having made a mistake unless the conduct of the pool room should be such as to make a public nuisance and a detriment to the city.

The trustees clearly cannot rescind their action. Now that the hysterical stage is passed in safety, let us settle down to business on a basis of plain common sense and stop the agitation of a question which, for the present at least, is settled.

He is zanjero for the Verdugo Pipe and Reservoir Co. and in riding a bicycle, a chain attached to a wrench he was carrying, became entangled in the wheel. Last Monday morning a party of young folks left town for a five days' outing at the "Terrace," above Crescenta. From the amount of provisions carried away, it might be thought they were going for the winter. The party consisted of James Newton and a large part of the Gould and Ward families. If guns are a good sign the party will eat meat three times daily and then some. We heard something said about deer, but our sympathies do not reach farther than to the rabbits.

At the last meeting of the Presbyterian Brotherhood, on Wednesday evening, though the attendance was small the enthusiasm was great. WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church met with Mrs. Kannawin, on E street. The president, Miss Sherer, having been temporarily disabled by an accident, the meeting was in charge of the vice president, Mrs. Kannawin. Mrs. D. P. Harrison conducted the devotional exercises, opening with singing, "I Know Whom I Have Believed," and reading the Scriptures, and prayer. Mention was made of the remarkable power and sweetness of those words in 2nd Tim. 1:12, "I know whom I have believed," as given to members of a family well-known among us. Mrs. Clelland president of the Presbyterian Society of Los Angeles Presbytery, when on her way home from Princeton Theological Seminary, some time ago, in company with her son, Horace, who was in broken health, found herself oppressed with anxiety for him as he left her train for a brief rest at the old home in Kentucky, while she came onward to her duties here; and this verse was deeply impressed upon her mind, to her great comfort.

Months later, at Long Beach, when the dear son saw that he had but a few hours to live, these same words were his spontaneous utterance of joyous triumph to comfort his mother, though he knew not of her reception of them on the earlier occasion.

The father, Rev. R. W. Clelland, at his first utterance of Scripture words after the dear one was gone, not knowing as yet what use had been made of it, broke out in the same triumphant language, "I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that He is able to keep that which I have committed unto Him against that day."

Needless to say the words are very precious to all who know the family and their work.

After transaction of business Miss Carrie Hart, a visitor from Long Beach, sang "A Starless Crown."

The foreign topic for the day, "India," was opened by Mrs. Portlock, and much interest was caused by her remarks on child marriage and all its consequences, and by a paper sent in by Mrs. Harris, on Sex Degeneration in India.

Attention was called to the need of watchfulness against kidnappers, who come to our country to steal away and sell little girls who are taken to meet the demands of Hindoo sensuality. A note of warning was also given in regard to the Babis and Swamis, whose words are quoted as, "So beautiful, so pure!" and as teaching the grandest truths. Both the abominable traffic in little girls and the false and seductive teaching, are creeping into our midst without the knowledge of many of the people.

The home topic, "Alaska," was presented by Mrs. A. M. Ayers, with maps and a view of our Presbyterian missions, there, together with some account of the discovery of Alaska in the 16th century, by Peter Behring, after whom, of course, Behrings Straits was named.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES.

On Tuesday evening, 29th inst., Rev. S. A. Thomson, D. D., P. E., Pasadena district, will be present at 7:30 and hold the fourth quarterly conference for the year. Officers for the church for next year will be elected at this meeting.

Reports of officers and committees will be given. It is quite an important meeting and all interested should arrange to be present.

Music by the choir on last Sabbath was up to the high standard fixed by our singers. The special Sabbath evening by Miss Una Russell, was listened to with real pleasure on the part of a large and appreciative congregation. Many souls were moved by the sweet appeal of song. Truly God has arranged that we might be happy through this agency.

The pastor preached last Sabbath the sixth sermon on the Lord's prayer from the text, "Give Us this Day Our Daily Bread." On Sabbath morning the theme will be "Forgiveness as Taught by Our Lord." In the evening Brother Blackburn will preach to a full house, we hope.

Rev. W. S. Blackburn has been a minister in the Methodist Episcopal church for about fifty-five years. He is fresh and young in thought and spirit. It will do you good to hear him. The pastor will preach on Sabbath evening at Lincoln Avenue M. E. church, Pasadena.

Mrs. Kober, one of our excellent women, has been on the sick list, but is much improved at his writing.

Mrs. D. F. Hendershott, who was injured on her return from the camp meeting, while attempting to get on a Glendale car, by reason of the carelessness of a conductor, is improving slowly.

Mrs. Edwards, whose home is on East Second street, is poorly, but hope of her recovery is had by her many friends.

Forty-five of our young people of the I. O. G. T. visited with the Pasadena Lodge on Tuesday evening. They were nearly all taken by Hugh Cromwell on a large hay wagon. A large number of these young people are members of our Sabbath School and congregation. A delightful evening was experienced. We were royally received.

The W. H. M. S. has arranged for an address by the superintendent of the Spanish Home at Hollywood, on September 17th, 1907. This will be a delightful occasion. Please keep the date in mind.

Many of our women are exceedingly busy with aid work, with home and foreign missions, with the great cause of temperance, in fact, with every good work. May they be wonderfully blessed of heaven is our earnest prayer.

Mr. Oliver Thrift, of Phoenix, Ariz., came in and gave us a friendly call on Thursday.

Mr. Thrift was our next door neighbor for a number of years at Moravia, Iowa.

The Epworth League will give a trip around the world on Tuesday evening, August 27, starting from M. Z. Remsburgh, at eight o'clock. The company will stop at different points of interest. The whole trip for 25 cents.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

One of the most interesting meetings of the year of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church, was held at the residence of Mrs. J. R. Meyers, at "Beth Eden Ranch," Wednesday afternoon. The interesting program was arranged by Miss Carrie Botts, who prepared a most interesting paper commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the arrival of the first Protestant missionary, Robert Morrison, in Canton, China.

Mrs. Samuel Ayers, president of the society, gave a paper on the "Martyr's Memorial" and eulogizing the Christian faith and fortitude of Robert Morrison.

Miss Harriet Meyer gave a brief reading on the work in Brazil. Miss Francis Erskine, the "Centenary Conference Side Lights and Incidents." Mrs. D. M. Stuart gave a concise and complete report of the Presbyterial conference which convened in Los Angeles recently.

The home topic, "Alaska," furnished splendid material for several papers read by Mrs. K. E. Wilson, Mrs. Meyers and Mrs. William Malcom.

REV. AND MRS. JOHN PITTENGER HONORED.

Rev. John Pittenger, of the First Methodist Episcopal church, and Mrs. Pittenger, were tendered a farewell reception at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chandler, Wednesday evening. The guests included not only the members of their own congregation, where they are so dearly beloved, but members of the First Presbyterian church and the townspeople generally. The choir of the Methodist church rendered several selections. Mrs Charles Peckham sang in her sweetest notes one of Mr. Peckham's latest compositions, "After the Honeymoon's Over."

Miss Pearl Harrison, in a sweet, flexible voice, rendered "Marguerite;" Charles Peckham gave several piano solos. Brief addresses were made by Rev. Pittenger, Rev. D. M. Stuart and Mr. Joseph A. Marple.

The program closed by the guests uniting in singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." Owing to his health, Rev. Pittenger has deemed it advisable to resign the ministry and will spend the winter in Illinois.

ECHO MEETING.

The Echo meeting, given at the First Presbyterian church, Sunday evening, by the Woman's Missionary society of the church, in which the congregation and missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church assisted, proved to be one of the most interesting given by the society. A program of interesting numbers of music, readings and talks, which had been arranged by Mrs. T. W. Doyle, was presented. The free-will thank offering amounted to sixteen dollars, which will aid greatly in the missionary cause.

MRS. JARVIS ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. H. N. Jarvis, of Los Angeles, was the house guest of Mrs. E. W. Richardson, the past week. Mrs. Jarvis, who was a former resident of Tropico, is always gladly welcomed by her numerous friends here whenever she visits in the valley.

Mrs. Jarvis was the former president of the Kings Daughters, a local organization that did much efficient work throughout the valley. This estimable woman was one of the principal factors in establishing the Day Nursery in Los Angeles.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Monthly Review of Trade Conditions for July in Southern California

Crop conditions throughout this section continue good. Grain harvest is running under estimates, but prices are higher than for years, wheat quoted at $1.50 and barley $1.10 and $1.15 a cental. Hay crop is large, quality good, the price tendency a little downward. Beans are maturing slowly this year. Celery crop is now being planted and excellent progress is being made.

Fruit is plentiful, but the demand is so great from east and north that orchardists are on top of prosperity wave. Activity now concentrates at canneries. Apricot season is practically closed and peaches are to the fore. The amount of peaches for the driers has been badly cut, not only by higher price offerings of canneries, but by sulphur controversy arising from requirements of Pure Food Law. The vineyardists will harvest a great crop and prices offered by raisin men will probably force up prices for the wine makers.

The July orange market was never in better shape. Shipments were unusually heavy, more than 1000 carloads of Valencias going forward during the month. This season is the fifth successive season for high prices for Valencias. Demand was brisk and continuous, few going to auctions, but shipped on order, prices averaging $3.25 to $3.50 f.o.b. Every indication points to a heavy orange crop for season 1907-8. It is expected Interstate Commerce Commission will give decision as to car distribution before shipping of new crop begins.

The lemon market for month ruled strong and high; prices averaged $4.25 to $5.20 f.o.b. The main question shipper had to face was quantity to supply demand. The middle west is principal market place of California lemon. Competition with foreign fruit does not enter to any such extent as on Atlantic coast.

In cured fruit market practically nothing is moving. Eastern buyers hold that apricot prices are prohibitive; 9-10 of sales this season have been for export. But as crop is lightest ever known, coast handlers are not inclined to make much concession from quotations. As mentioned, the National Pure Food Law is making a lot of trouble for cured fruit man. It is especially curtailing dried peach output and business is being seriously affected by uncertainty of dealers, as to risk they run in doing business in present situation. Raisins are a little weaker at 5½c in sweat box. Futures have sold heavily.

Canners of fruit and vegetables report big sales at highest prices ever known in history of industry. The middle of the month, the California Fruit Canners' Association put out quotations. Prices are high as anticipated, but on the lower grades are lower than Central California canneries' prices.

It is now conceded honey output will be 60 carloads; practically no comb. Prices unusually high, apiarists receiving 5 to 6c. Bean market is firm, with a fair summer trade reported. Sugar shipment from this season's run at Visalia, which opened July 30th, has arrived in Los Angeles. Campaign at Oxnard will open middle of August. The run at this factory and Alamitos will be shorter than usual, but up to usual standard in quality. The oil industry in this section is attracting more and more attention. The foreign shipments show steady large increase. Its value this year will approximate $140,000,000 The consumption about equals production. Oil is now selling in Los Angeles at $1 per bbl., with 50c. on new contracts in Kern fields. Locally business shows evidence of summer dullness. It is the season when business must be gone for. Credit conditions good. The building permits show increase in number over June, but fall a little below in value, just reaching $1,313,000.

Failures for the month, 24. Liabilities $51,000; assets $35,000. Same month last year 23. Liabilities $50,000; assets $30,000.

"East Glendale"

Mr. Traffic Manager Mr. McMillan's map of the Pacific Electric system, showing "East Glendale" as located along the line of the Salt Lake Company's track, continues to be largely used by newspapers, real estate agents and others. To object to this, would place us in the category of "kickers," hence we resolutely refrain, with proper apologies for the necessity which compels us to give the P. E. a free mention occasionally.

County Assessment

The total corrected valuation of assessments in Los Angeles county for the years 1907-08 is $374,863,858. Last year it was $305,302,863. $174,002 has been collected for poll tax, which is a particularly good showing. The tax rate will probably be raised also, in order, as Supervisor Alexander says, "to pay the extra number of employees and increases in salaries loaded on the county by the legislature."

Supply all the veal we handle. This accounts for the tender, sweet flavor of the meat.

At this season; that is, good veal. Try a few chops or a roast today. You'll think you're eating chicken when you come to taste it. As a change from the heavy winter meats you will find it delightful.
